Friends' Events

May 12, 2010

Check out the photos from the three events hosted by the Friends of Henderson Library to celebrate National Library Week. The Friends treated the Henderson Library team with refreshments and door prizes at a reception on April 27, and two events for the public were held the week of April 11: a free screening of The Hollywood Librarian and a special presentation by Roger Allen on the history of libraries in Bulloch County. The FOHL greatly appreciates the generosity of and research by Roger Allen; the Statesboro-Bulloch County Friends of the Library for co-sponsoring the public events; and Bill Price with George Eagle Broadcasting, the Bulloch County Historical Society, and the George-Anne Daily for publicizing the events. Don't miss the next Friends' event – the annual Dean's Tailgate in September! Enjoy some great food and help support the library, too, as we cheer Georgia Southern to a victory against Navy!

Database trials and evaluation: American Theological Library Association Historical Monographs Collection, and American Antiquarian Society Historical Periodicals Collection

May 12, 2010

American Theological Library Association (ATLA) Historical Monograph Collection:

Please give us your feedback (in comments here, or email to jharwell@georgiasouthern.edu) about this database and its usefulness. If you find information of value here, please let us know which date range is more valuable to you: 13th Century through 1893, or 1894-1923. This free trial is active until June 30, and is listed in GALILEO.

Thanks!

The American Theological Library Association (ATLA) Historical Monograph Collection consists of two Series that contain more than 29,000 titles focused on religion and theology. In its entirety, the collection is estimated to contain over 10 million pages, representing a core collection for colleges and universities with programs in history, theology, religion, sociology, political science and other disciplines.

Series 1 consists of titles from the 13th Century through 1893.

Series 2 consists of titles published from 1894 through 1923.

American Antiquarian Society (AAS) Historical Periodicals Collection:

Please give us your feedback (in comments here, or email to jharwell@georgiasouthern.edu) about this database and its usefulness. If you find information of value here, please let us know which date range is more valuable to you: 1691-1820, or 1821-1837. This free trial is active until June 30, and is listed in GALILEO. Thanks!

American Antiquarian Society (AAS) Historical Periodicals Collection: Series 1 The AAS Historical

Periodicals Collection: 1691-1820 presents 550 titles dating from 1693 through 1820. The collection represents over two centuries of print culture, ranging from early works imported by the colonists to later titles published on American soil on the eve of the Revolution and during the early republic.

Series 1 is first of the five series created from periodical holdings belonging to one of the premier repositories in the United States, the American Antiquarian Society. The entire AAS collection features about 6,500 titles from the seventeenth through the late nineteenth century. The subject matter covered in Series 1 is broad in scope and covers all aspects of American society during this time period. Series 2 presents over 1000 titles dating from 1821 through 1837. The collection represents

over two centuries of print culture, ranging from early works imported by the colonists to later titles published on American soil on the eve of the Revolution and during the early republic. The series two is second of the five series created from serials holdings belonging to one of the premier repositories in the United States, the American Antiquarian Society and featuring about 6500 titles from the seventeenth through the late nineteenth century. The subject matter covered in Series 2

represents

the Jacksonian Democracy era in history and is broad in scope and includes agriculture, entertainment, history, literary criticism, and politics.
